Language has a primary importance in Jungian psychology and its practice. Jung saw every speech act as a psychic event. Even the “worker words” in language, like prepositions or conjunctions carry particular archetypal energies, working dynamically and daimonically in the conduct of transformational narrative and realizing both personal and collective purposes.

The lecture aims to deepen our consciousness of psyche’s speech as it occurs in our professional discourses, in psychoanalytic encounters, in dreams, in fairy tales, myths and poetry, and to kindle or rekindle our engagement with language.
